

One of the first female research chemists & inventor of Kevlar

Stephanie Kwolek was a famous inventor and scientist. Her research in polymer science led to the discovery of Kevlar, a synthetic material that is 5 times stronger than steel

Celebrate
International Women's Day
#WomenThink

International Women's Day is celebrated on March 8th. This is an opportunity to respect, appreciate, and support the women in your life, and to celebrate the achievements of women over the years.

IBM's first female CEO, and One of the Most Powerful Women in Business

Ginni Rometty is the Chairwoman, President and CEO of IBM. She has been named to Fortune Magazine's "50 Most Powerful Women in Business" for ten consecutive years, ranking #1 in 2012, 2013, and 2014.

Celebrate International Women's Day #WomenThink

International Women's Day is celebrated on March 8th. This is an opportunity to respect, appreciate, and support the women in your life, and to celebrate the achievements of women over the years.

One of the first programmers and inventor of the first computer compiler

Admiral Grace M. Hopper was a computer scientist and U.S. Navy Rear Admiral. She was one of the first programmers of the Harvard Mark I computer, and coined the term “debugging” for fixing computer glitches

Celebrate
International Women's Day
#WomenThink

International Women's Day is celebrated on March 8th. This is an opportunity to respect, appreciate, and support the women in your life, and to celebrate the achievements of women over the years.

The Youngest Nobel Prize laureate and activist for female education

Malala Yousafzai is a Children's activist, and Women's Rights Activist. She survived an attack by the Taliban, and has continued to speak out on the importance of education. She won the Nobel Peace Prize in 2014

Celebrate International Women's Day #WomenThink

International Women's Day is celebrated on March 8th. This is an opportunity to respect, appreciate, and support the women in your life, and to celebrate the achievements of women over the years.

The first woman to win a Nobel Prize, the first person and only woman to win twice

Marie Curie physicist and chemist who conducted pioneering research on radioactivity. She developed the theory of radioactivity (and coined the term) and techniques for isolating radioactive isotopes, and she discovered two elements, polonium and radium

Celebrate International Women's Day #WomenThink

International Women's Day is celebrated on March 8th. This is an opportunity to respect, appreciate, and support the women in your life, and to celebrate the achievements of women over the years.

Cryptanalyst, numismatist, and World War II Codebreaker

Joan Clarke was best known for her work as a code-breaker at Bletchley Park, site of the UK's Government Code and Cypher School. Her role in the Enigma project helped end World War II

Celebrate
International Women's Day
#WomenThink

International Women's Day is celebrated on March 8th. This is an opportunity to respect, appreciate, and support the women in your life, and to celebrate the achievements of women over the years.

<Insert Photo Here>

Who do you see here?
Your Grandmother?
Your Mother?
Your Sister?
Your Daughter?
Yourself?

Do you see yourself making a difference in the world? Or maybe it's the aspiring leader across the hall, or under your own roof.

Celebrate International Women's Day #WomenThink

International Women's Day is celebrated on March 8th. This is an opportunity to respect, appreciate, and support the women in your life, and to celebrate the achievements of women over the years.

Author, Poet, Civil Rights Activist, and recipient of over 50 Honorary Degrees

Maya Angelou was best known for her 1969 memoir, I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings, which was the first nonfiction best-seller by an African American woman. She was active in the Civil Rights movement, and was a close friend of Martin Luther King Jr.

Celebrate
International Women's Day
#WomenThink

International Women's Day is celebrated on March 8th. This is an opportunity to respect, appreciate, and support the women in your life, and to celebrate the achievements of women over the years.

